Supporting our First Responders

Best Practices for How Departments Can Partner with Their EAPs

Best Practices:

- Designating a “point person” to work with the EAP to coordinate response
- Annual re-orientation to the EAP program and how to access services
- Ensuring that counselors and coaches are available with specific first responder competency
- Implementing consistent Supervisor training on using the EAP to support officers
- Utilizing SWEAP’s certified crisis response team
- Delivering pro-active training in stress management & psychological resilience

As your Employee Assistance Program (EAP) provider, SWEAP delivers counseling, coaching, crisis response, and training to help you, your team, and your whole organization stay productive even while dealing with life’s challenges.

Additionally, SWEAP also offers upon request:

- Peer-to-peer team support
- Online first responder peer support groups
- Customized training programs
- Customized coaching
- Yearly wellness checks with follow-up
